The launch of Meezan VISA Debit card signifies Meezan Bank's commitment to remain a technologically advanced bank, with a robust Alternate Distribution Channel to cater to the rapidly growing customer base and branch network.

Meezan VISA Debit card, equipped with the power of VISA, can be accepted at over 40 million shopping outlets, and can be used to withdraw cash at over 1.4 million VISA Plus ATMs internationally, including any 1Link/Mnet member banks' ATM within Pakistan. Customers can dine or shop and pay by simply swiping their card on VISA credit/debit card point of sale (POS) terminal at the outlet.

The Meezan Visa Debit card is Shariah-compliant and is unique to the workings of a VISA Credit Card. Unlike a Credit Card which works on "Buy Now, Pay Later" mechanism, the Debit Card works on the "Buy Now, Pay Now" principle. When a customer uses his VISA Debit Card, the amount is debited from his bank account instantly with no interest charges. The bank earns from a discount given by the merchant to the bank.

Visa Debit Cards are an ideal choice for our NRP customers and customers who are frequent travelers as most tourist destinations and traveling agencies prefer electronic payment. Customer do not have to visit money changers and wait in queues, just one card swipe and the amount will be directly debited from their account, no matter what the currency is.

Message from the COO

Alhamdulillah, Meezan Bank has demonstrated very good performance over the year. Annualised deposit growth for the first half of the year was 32%, which is substantially higher than the 8% growth achieved by the banking industry as whole during this period. We are now in the important last quarter of 2009 and I am confident that our concerted efforts will ensure that we close the year on a high note. We have already crossed the important milestone of Rs 90 billion, a 28% increase over the 31st December 2008 figure, and we must now work hard to achieve the magic target of Rs. 100 billion.

Some of you have expressed concern that while we push to achieve the target of Rs. 100 billion certain decisions with regard to 'premiums' allowed to customers, appears to be contradictory to that desire. I want to clarify that while we must Insha'Allah strive unwaveringly towards the Rs. 100 billion goal, we also need to be aware that this must be done profitably. As a result the Asset Liability Committee (ALCO) meets regularly to carefully evaluate the liquidity of the Bank, review profit rates paid by other banks, etc. on the basis of which decisions with regard to pricing on deposits and strategy to pay 'premiums' is taken. It is, therefore, important to understand that pricing decisions are taken very carefully after taking both internal and external factors into consideration. We have to work within the parameters set by ALCO from time to time and have faith that this is what is in the best interest of the bank.

The second important point that I want to share with you relates to the future strategic direction of Meezan Bank. I believe that, by the Grace of Allah, we have firmly established the bank as the 'premier Islamic Bank' of Pakistan. Going forward, we have to ensure that we maintain our leadership position in the industry. This means that we must focus on maintaining growth while at the same time strengthen our systems and controls. A number of initiatives are being considered to address this need, including new technology initiatives, centralization of processes and an in-depth review of internal controls. But what is critical is that all of us, at all levels, understand that there is a need to streamline the manner in which we work, maximize productivity and improve turn-around-time (TAT). This will be critical in the face of difficult economic conditions and increased competition from other banks (Islamic and conventional). TAT is critical to ensure that we retain the best quality customers since good customers always have a choice - a choice where to take their business. It is easy to become complacent and believe that we will retain customers even if we give them poor service. The downfall of many successful businesses may be attributed to this one single factor; so we must not fall into the same trap.

To recap, do not be frustrated by decisions taken by Head Office from time to time that appear to be contradictory to what you expect. Have faith that these decisions are taken in the overall interest of the Bank. Secondly, we must manage the bank efficiently and prudently; with a very strong focus on the quality of services delivered to the customers.

It is essential that we unite as one team and maintain our position as leaders in Islamic Banking.

Editor's Note

Success! pages has received an overwhelming response. Survey results show an increase of over 40% in readership and an increase of 35% in contributions. We thank you for your comments and feedback received on the launch of our first printed edition. Please keep sending in your suggestions and critique to further develop this newsletter as an important form of corporate communication.

This quarter, the launch of the highly anticipated VISA Debit Card, the aggressive increase in the Bank's deposits, and the individual milestones achieved by the Corporate Department have been highlighted. The steps towards providing Micro Finance and the focus on training via efforts by the Training Department and the PDSC department are commendable.

It is felt that the newsletter remains lacking in terms of highlighting nationwide branch achievements. Area Managers and Branch Managers are encouraged to send in contributions from their branches to recognize branch and individual employee efforts in each quarter.

MEEZAN BANK LAUNCHES

VISA DEBIT CARD

For the bank, the card has dual benefits. The Visa debit card is both an attractive tool for deposit mobilization and provides support to the existing product line. For example Meezan Labbaik, a recently launched Hajj and Umrah package coupled with our VISA Debit card provides our customers freedom, convenience and security in their international travel.

Meezan VISA Debit card is split into two categories, the Silver card and the Gold card, with the Gold card providing a larger daily withdrawal limit in both shopping and cash withdrawal.

Meezan Bank is proud to offer this product to its customers. The Meezan Visa Debit card is another sign of our commitment towards making Islamic banking the banking of first choice for Pakistani consumers.

INTER BRANCH SERVICE COMPETITION WORKING TOWARDS BEING THE BEST SERVICE PROVIDING BANK 2011

The Inter Branch Service Competition, a segment of the Service Accountability Report, has proved very beneficial and its components are considered an essential tool in service measurement. We have seen branches that have successfully grown to our expectations and others who are striving to reach the top. This development has also been verified by the positive results of the mystery shopping conducted last month along with a comparative report of the branches performance amongst its competitors.

Another area that has been highlighted through this monitoring is the various practical issues which were found and addressed by branches which scored comparatively lower than their competing branches.

We congratulate all those branches who have earned the title of "Service Champion" and expect that they remain at the top. We encourage the rest to continue striving for service excellence and together we shall reach our goal.

Elevating the bank's image globally

Coming under Special Projects, the Meezan bank corporate website is consistently enhanced via introduction of innovative features, making it amongst the most frequently updated and visited Financial Institution websites of Pakistan. Keeping in view customer convenience, usability and speed of access to information, the project team has revamped and introduced numerous sections and functionalities in the website.

To assist customers in locating the Meezan Bank branches and to highlight the expanding branch network, the website's branch locator provides an excellent bird's eye view of each branch location. Using the Google Maps application, users can scroll, zoom and get in-depth details of the branch and its surrounding area.

The corporate website provides an excellent search facility, found on the top-right of all the website pages allowing users to search the website via the Auto-suggestion feature. A list of possible search keywords is displayed upon the entering of the first few letters in the search box. The News section has also been enhanced to provide the latest news with a brief summary of each item on the homepage itself via an aesthetic and impressive usability.

The recent launches of the Meezan Visa Debit and Meezan Labbaik (Hajj and Umrah) products, were supported by the website via their product sections. The new Labbaik Calculators allow customers to easily calculate their saving plan or review package plan prior to visiting the branch and finalizing their selected package. The newly added section of Islamic Financial Advisory Services is designed for Financial Institutions looking for advisory services for development of Shariah compliant services and products.

In the area of helping the banks' departments, the Human Resource (HR) department was recently provided an updated means of working with job applicants by providing an in-depth filtering and searching mechanism to filter the relevant applications. Previously, the HR department faced a time consuming and resource hogging process of physically filtering received CVs retrieved from the website.

One aim of the corporate website is to reduce call load on the Call Center and Branch visits by providing customers all possible information at a single location, accessible from their home or workplace. While assisting in the promotion and branding of the Bank and its products, the website also plays a role in the generation of leads for potential customers and provides an avenue for customer complaints and feedback. The corporate website further provides access to bank's departments to specially designed functions based on their specific requirements which need to be updated on a perpetual or periodic basis. The website also provides access to its certain sections to relevant departments to ensure the information is 'always up to date' and provides a share of responsibility and interest in its consistent development.

The corporate website is consistently evolving with numerous projects currently in the pipeline, pertaining to Online Education, Corporate Branding and Online Social Marketing.

Training Corner Activities for the Quarter

The Training Department continues to actively organize training courses throughout all regions in the dedicated Training Centers established for our staff. The feedback from across the country regarding the Training Department's activities was very positive and encouraging. The Monthly Training Calendars for all the regions were improved and there were hardly any days in the training calendar when a training activity was not conducted at the main Training Centers of Karachi, Lahore and Islamabad.

- A new Initiative undertaken across the country was the holding of Demo sessions of External Trainers for "Soft Skill" courses since now that the General Banking, Islamic Finance and technical training courses have been incorporated into the training Calendars on a regular basis, the need to introduce soft-skill courses for the Personal and Professional Grooming of staff is also being felt.

- In order to further improve the quality of the training sessions and to ensure maximum absorption by the participants, the Training Department has initiated "Testing" at the end of each Technical Banking session. These tests are designed by our internal trainers with the idea to instill the importance and the seriousness of the training sessions in the staff. The test results are shared with the participants and their immediate line manager / supervisor.

- DVD training sessions for the staff are another innovation attributed to the Training Department, when any new product / service is launched by the bank. Case in point being the VISA Debit Card and the Hajj Labaik products. Training Sessions were recorded and burned on DVDs in the South and were used as a DVD Training Tool in organizing the same product or service orientation sessions in the other regions.

CHANGING A MINDSET IS AS EASY AS CHANGING A HAT

The Six Thinking Hat Training, organized by the Training department was conducted by Syed Amir Ali, Head of Investment Banking. The training was advertised as a simple and powerful tool to provide an innovative and creative means of problem solving.

The training suggested an urgent and drastic shift in thinking, from an argumentative mode of thinking, one which is prevalent in our culture, to an open and parallel approach. It provided various processes which may be adopted based on a situation in order to arrive at a thought out conclusion, free from biased views and hasty judgments.

One of the positive elements that I came across throughout the session and which I find necessary to inculcate, is the opportunity for an individual to come forth with his/her opinion. I find that the application of these processes demands room for each one to express their ideas and later apply the techniques to arrive at a sound decision. This exercise would encourage expressing one's individual creativity to allow for communitarian decision making.

Hats off to Syed Amir Ali for the great job in ensuring the audience was involved throughout the session. I feel that this training should be made as essential as the orientation for the grooming of every employee on various levels.

Interview

Fahim Siddiqui discusses the Deposit Mobilization Strategy and the effort to provide new innovative products to customers from the Islamic Banking platform

Mr. Fahim Siddiqui, Manager Retail Banking Products, PDSC

Muhammad Fahim Siddiqui is a MBA from the Institute of Business Management Pakistan and has a PGD in Islamic Banking.

Fahim was previously associated with Saudi Pak Bank (now Silk Bank) for 3 years. Earlier he worked for 10 years with the State Bank of Pakistan on projects including those of the World Bank.

Consistent news is visible of the bank hitting new deposit milestones during the year. What has the bank done to bring this recent acceleration in the increase of the deposit base?

Throughout the year, Meezan Bank has made consistent efforts to improve quality and to provide personalized services to customers. A strong sales team was the key to deposit generation who were given in-depth training of all products related to their target customers and proved to be extremely active in making follow ups and attending to potential customers.

The Bank has further dedicated itself in the development of the Islamic Banking Industry by marketing efforts and knowledge based discussions through Area seminars, Islamic Banking Workshops, Open panel discussions meeting and product based marketing campaigns. One major factor which played a role in deposit generation was the Customer Appreciation Days which enhanced the trust of customer banking with Meezan Bank and celebrating the high growth and success of Islamic Banking in Pakistan. Another important factor is the recognition of staff loyalty and their efforts via the unique 'Deposit Mobilization Scheme' designed for employees at non-sales positions.

What differentiates the Deposit Mobilization Campaign (DMC) from regular Sales activates?

DMC was a time-bound, point-based reward scheme to generate low cost deposit through Non Sales related employees. What differentiated this from any other Sales Activity is that every employee had an opportunity to make sales with their efforts being rewarded through a specially designed award scheme.

The rewards provided an extra incentive to promote the bank and expand its deposit base.

The campaign brought about 2800 new accounts with fresh deposits as well as incremental deposits in the existing accounts. Total amount generated from this campaign was more than Rs. 1.4 billion and almost half of them were in current accounts.

What are the most recent products your team has worked on?

Recently we launched the highly successful Meezan Labbaik, Hajj & Umrah product. The product provides for three payment options:

Labbaik Savings Aasaan - customers can Save now and perform Umrah/Hajj later. The saving plan extends from 1 to 20 years with good profits and exciting features

Labbaik Travel Aasaan - customers pay now and travel immediately, Meezan bank makes all the arrangements to ensure the journey is made with comfort and convenience

Labbaik Travel Aasaan Installment Plan - where customers make their journey now on the basis of a Qard given to the customer by the Bank. All arrangements and formalities are completed by the Bank and its Travel Partners.

We are working to further launch new packages in upcoming Umrah / hajj season.

How is Labbaik unique to any other Hajj / Umrah financing product available in the market?

Meezan Labbaik is designed to be a One Stop Shop. Our Hajj & Umrah packages offer a convenient and easy way for our customers to travel via the options of immediate payment, accrued payment or even through the specialized saving account. Our team ensures that complete and proper arrangements with travel agency have been made so that the pilgrims can perform their religious duties with complete comfort and convenience.

Nor only do the pilgrims have multiple payment options, unlike any Travel Agent, but are also provided with the most convenient and noted travel arrangements and VISA processing. The strategic alliance with M/s Bukhari Travel Pakistan for air tickets and with M/s Bab ul Haramain Pakistan for Visa and KSA arrangements makes the entire journey's arrangement a single window operation for convenience of the customer. Furthermore, we also make arrangements of groups with Visa, Hotel, Transport, Ziaraat and confirmed return airline seats for weekly departure.

How is a product like Labbaik beneficial to the bank?

Meezan Labbaik, is not about the benefits to the Bank, it's the first product which the bank has launched as its Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). The product's aim is to help and encourage Pakistani pilgrims in performing their religious duties by simplifying the application and travel process and giving a one window reliable solution in a Shariah compliant way.

Not only does the product increase the number of potential customers at branches but it is also helping brand our loyalty toward the customer and highlight our efforts towards the spreading of the Deen, which in essence is a fundamental duty as an Islamic Institution.

Nevertheless, Meezan Labbaik is designed with the potential to earning a good profit if desired, however the bank has not considered it with a profit motive but rather more as a CSR effort.

The economic slump has affected banks globally. What strategy plan has been put in place to counter the current situation?

The financial industry has been affected, so yes we have taken a balanced approach in liability products profit ratios and consumer banking rental charges so that financing customers should be as satisfied as the depositors of the bank.

We are making all possible efforts to give value of money to customer and developing products mix to cater to different income classes.

What new products are in the pipeline for 2010?

Insha'Allah in coming months, we are planning to launch different exciting new products, mostly not available in the Islamic Banking industry like Meezan Income Support Account, Education Savings Plan, Marriage Savings Plans, Foreign Currency Savings Accounts and long term Certificate of Islamic Investments.

Fahim is currently managing Retail Banking Products under the Product Development & Shariah Compliance department, and is involved with product development for Consumer Banking

Batch Trainee Officer

Eager to build my professional career, my MBA in Islamic Banking and Finance from the International Islamic University Islamabad had me geared-up to enter the industry. The degree however had still left me unconvinced as to the practicality and utility of Islamic Banking in our society.

During my MBA, numerous debates on the financial concepts and practicality were arranged. Professional bankers, financial managers and Shariah Scholars discussed and educated us via open discussion, seminars and panel discussions proving productive but not always convincing. Are the concepts feasible, applicable and will they be able to impact society? Are the Islamic Institutions capable of catering to our financial needs? These questions remained unanswered.

Interning at an Islamic Bank, after my Post Graduation, I was unable to explore in detail the impact and the possibility of establishing Islamic Banking as the preferred option over conventional banking. A notice at the university notice board gave me the opportunity to clear my doubts and pave my career, I applied for the advertised Batch Trainee Officer position in Meezan Bank.

Hastily completing the prerequisites, so as not to be amongst the last to apply, with the grace of Almighty Allah and prayers of my mother I was accepted and joined Meezan Bank as a Trainee. The intense and fast paced one month training in Islamic Banking answered and showed practical examples of the value and vision of the Bank and the practicality of Islamic Banking both locally and internationally. Training at Bhara Kahu, Islamabad, the professionals answered, with logic and belief, the queries that previously restricted my confidence in Islamic banking and showed how it enables the wealth in societies to be streamlined.

In the short time span which I have been associated with Meezan Bank, the Bank has continued to assist me in development of my career and increase my understanding in the Islamic modes of financing and banking.

I am proud to be a part of the Meezan Bank workforce, and to play a role in making Islamic Banking Banking of the first choice in Pakistan. May Allah bless Meezan Bank and it progresses with leaps and bounds.
